

Since all the developed or reconstructed accredited study programs should be taught at Serbian public (state owned) universities, financial sustainability is provided by the financial support from the Ministry of education.